Ordering Social Media Reports for Success
Social Media reports are increasingly helpful in validating claims and can potentially capture early indicators of fraud. Reports are fully curated and customized based on specific case requirements for any specific claim.

Most reports take anywhere from four to nine business days depending on the type of request and the amount of data available per social media platform.

Critical to your request(s)!!:

Please consider including these items in the comment section when placing your Social Media order: type of claim, information about the type of claim, what you are looking for, any additional details about the claim, employment, known relationships, school/degree, email address, phone number.
Our reports ensure No False Positives and prove to be the most reliable processing social media reports in the industry.

We quickly and cost-effectively identify, capture, and analyze social media content and present as a finished product allowing customers to do their jobs more efficiently and effectively.

We offer "Lead", "Basic", "Plus" & "Premium" searches in order to customize each available degree of analysis. These are broken down by description on our report page under People Reports at datachecksystems.com/reports (see link below)

Should we determine there is an "active" account (this means many posts and shared posts that pertain to your claim) we will advise. You may want us to capture the additional metadata which can take more time, but it may help your case. We are working closely with our Social Media Investigations Division to ensure we are offering/acquiring everything possible that pertains to each case so the information you provide is just as critical.
